

Enthusiasm Runs High For July 5 Telethon

Final preparations for the Columbus showing of "The Lou Rawls Parade of Stars" are nearing completion, and officials and volunteer workers of the United Negro College Fund are bubbling with enthusiasm at the prospects for making this year's fundraising campaign one of the best in local and national UNCF history.

The three-hour telethon, which stars Lou Rawls and co-host Ed McMahon, as well as an extensive lineup of some of Hollywood and Las Vegas's biggest stars, will be aired on WTVN-TV6 on Saturday, July 5, beginning at 9 p.m.

Live, local segments hosted by WTVN radio personality Steve "Boom-Boom" Cannon and former OSU Homecoming Queen Mary Major will be interspersed throughout the show.

Those who expect to be out of town for the Fourth of July weekend are urged to mail their contributions directly to UNCF TELE-

A 23 year old Urbancrest woman has been charged with murder in connection with the shooting death of Virgil M. Burk, who was shot more than once with a .22-caliber revolver, according to a Franklin County sheriff detective.

Lolita M. Quinichett, 3353 Urban Hollow Court, Apt. E in Urbancrest, and Burk had a domestic quarrel before the shooting took place, said Detective Richard Rigby.

Ms. Quinichett's case is being prepared for presentation to the Franklin County grand jury by the county prosecutor's office. The detective said Burk, 24, 3340 Second Ave., Urbancrest, was the father of the woman's child, although the two had never lived together. He said the

Boyfriend Is Charged In Fiendish Stabbing Death Of Clergyman's Daughter

The 20 year old daughter of a prominent evangelist whom he said was brilliant and had the mental capacity to become anything she wanted to be, died last week in a fiendish act of violence. The body of Sherry Denise Lee was found early last Thursday in her blood-smeared apartment at 3668 Cleveland Ave. She had been stabbed several times, apparently by a knife, authorities said. She was the daughter of Elder Jerry D. Lee Jr., of 6895 E. Schreiner St., in Worthington. He is an evangelist for the Allegheny West Conference of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. His district includes Ohio, W. Virginia, Western Pennsylvania, Western Maryland and Western Virginia.

A little more than two hours after the body of the former Oakwood College student (Huntsville, Ala.) was found, her 18 year old boyfriend, Mark E. Pennington, was arrested in

Justice Department Agrees To Look Into Killings By Police

A 90-minute conference with Assistant U.S. Attorney General Drew Days in Washington, D.C., Tuesday morning relative to the excessive use of force by Columbus police, "was very productive," State Rep. Les Brown of Columbus told the CALL & POST.

The meeting, held in Department of Justice Building, was also attended by City Councilman Jerry Hammond and Frank Lomax III, President of the Columbus Urban League. Brown, who called for such a conference following the fatal shooting of Sherman Flint by two Columbus Police Officers two weeks ago, acted as spokesman for the trio. Days, who is in charge of the Civil Rights Division of the U.S. Justice Department, according to Brown, agreed to "look into the cases" presented to him.

Although Brown said it would be unethical to identify specific cases discussed, prior to the meeting Hammond said their request would go all the way back to the Larry Menfield killing in 1978. This meant that the Christmas Eve killing of Keith A. Burke and the recent Flint case were included in the discussion session.

Hammond also said the Justice Department would

City To Provide Summer Jobs For Youth And Adults

The City of Columbus intends to hire 1,000 youth and 100 jobless adults this

down in the economy and unemployment in the Columbus area. The youth will be paid community services, in announcing the program at a press conference Friday.

The youth program will last for six weeks and the 1,000 jobs are in addition to the 2,500 jobs offered to youth through the existing summer youth program, Ms. Welch said.

The adult program lasts for six weeks also and will provide jobs for jobless workers age 19 and over. There will be 100 jobs available each day of the six weeks and the jobs will be given to the first eligible participants to report to an advertised processing location.

City Council approved $562,000 Monday night for the two programs, with $350,000 coming from the city's investment earnings and $212,000 from federal Community Development Act funds.

Ms. Welch said the youth program is under way and that the adult program will begin July 11. Teenagers can apply at any CETA

School Discipline Problem Surpasses Need For Review

At the next Board of Education meeting, which is scheduled for 4 p.m. Tuesday, July 8, Supt. Joseph L. Davis is expected to seek permission to form a 12-member panel to reportedly "review and not reform" school discipline policies.

In light of the fact that an investigation conducted by his staff cleared four out of five white teachers of child abuse charges lodged by the parents of black students and that we have seen pictures of scratches and abrasions allegedly inflicted by one of those teachers cleared, we feel that this "rubber stamping" panel is not in the best interest of black students specifically and all students in general.

Greater significance is added to the above observation when two other facts are included: 1) In the one case where the teacher admitted kicking the student, the teacher needed only promise not to do it again to satisfy most school officials.

2) The Ohio legislature has been bombarded with proposals and counter-proposals all year seeking the enactment of laws designed to protect teachers from abuse by students. Yet no one, to our knowledge, has sought to protect or establish the rights of students.

If a student had kicked a teacher and admitted it, would he or she have been let off the hook with a simple promise not to do it again? We doubt it, especially if the teacher was white and the student was black. Thus observant students have been given a glimpse of what is meant by the concept of "equal justice" in the Columbus public school system.

They have been presented a role-model and, as we indicated earlier this year, "Children Learn What They Live." This lesson was perhaps summed up best by black Board Vice President Bill Moss who said, "you have the same people in charge of desegregation who were in charge of segregation."

Consequently, Board observers have recently witnessed a return to the black-white division which characterized it during the pre-desegregation

Individuals concerned about the formation of a panel whose sole reason for existing is to "legitimize" present discipline policies should make their feelings known to Board members before or on July 8.

(All Board meetings are scheduled to be held in the Assembly Room located in the basement of the Administration Building, 270 E. State St. Meetings are broadcast over radio station WOSE-92.5 on your FM dial.)

Abortions Ruling Said To Endanger Some Poor Women

With the Supreme Court ruling on Monday that the federal government may refuse to fund most abortions for poor women, these women may be forced to undergo considerable health risk, said a follower of the abortion controversy.

"If a woman gets pregnant and decides, 'I don't really want to have this baby, I really can't afford this baby,' then she's going to have to go back to the old jackleg approach," said Lela Boykin, who is an activist with pro-abortion groups in Columbus.

"That's what we don't want to happen," Ms. Boykin said. She added that one Ohio legislator has already said that the state would rather not deal at all with abortions, although the Supreme Court's ruling allows states to fund abortions.

In its 5-4 decision, the

Franklin Named To Fill CMHA Vacancy

Wade Franklin III was recently named by Mayor Tom Moody to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority Commissioner Mary Ellen O'Neill.

Franklin, who resides at 745 N. Nelson Rd., was nominated and appointed by Moody June 23 to serve as a CMHA Commissioner until June 30, 1984. He is presently employed by the Columbus public school system as a Contract Compliance Officer.

He also serves on the boards of Blue Cross of Central Ohio, Central Ohio

Regional Council on Alcoholism, Columbus Area Council on Alcoholism and Columbus Urban League "Leap" Program. In addition, Franklin is a Commissioner of the Ohio Civil Rights Commission.

Among his other memberships and affiliations are the Columbus Regional Minority Purchasing Council, Central Ohio Minority Affairs Representatives, St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Aha-Baba Temple No. 53 (Mason's) Shrine, Franklin County Republican Executive Committee, Columbus NAACP, and United Negro College Fund.

Pryor, Jordan Better Following Operations

Richard Pryor, who is recuperating from skin surgery following burns to 50 percent of his body, underwent more surgery Wednesday. Doctors at Sherman Oaks Community Hospital said the comedian will face more skin graft operations.

Pryor was taken off the critical list last week. The first skin graft operation has taken over about three-fourths of his body, according to a hospital spokes-

Pryor may have to undergo plastic surgery for the burns he received in an accident June 9 at his home in Northridge, Calif., the spokesperson said, adding that Pryor's face was healing well and that he apparently would not need facial grafts.

Meanwhile, National Urban League President Vernon Jordan, who was shot May 29 in Fort Wayne, Ind., is recovering after being taken to New York Hospital June 12. Officials investigating the shooting still say they have no idea who made the attempt on Jordan's life.

A $50,000 reward has been established for information leading to the arrest, prosecution and conviction of the assailant or assailants responsible for the near fatal shooting of Vernon E. Jordan, Jr., President of the National Urban League, last May 29th.

SUMMER WEEKEND '80—The third National Conference-Summer Weekend of the Kentucky State University Alumni Association will be held at the Neil House, 41 S. High St., July 3-6. Among those planning to attend the conference are, seated from left, Mrs. Clara Yokley, Dr. Olivia Thomas, Mrs. Antoinette Venable, Mrs. Lillian Bannister, Sherrie Green,

Kentucky State University Alumni Conference Planned

Applications Accepted For Apprenticeships

The Building Industry Association of Central Ohio is seeking qualified men and women with their own transportation for training and year round employment.

Fifteen persons will be trained. A four week orientation program will begin Aug. 14 at no cost to trainees. Starting salary is $3.50 to $4 per hour with regular six month increases over the two year apprenticeship. Interested persons should contact Richard Giffin, 891-0575. Applications are accepted through July 29.

The Kentucky State University Alumni will have their third national conference July 3-6 at the Neil House Motor Hotel, 41 S. High St. Dr. William A. Butts, president of the Frankfort university, will be the keynote speaker at the opening session which begins at 10 a.m. Friday.

Plans have been made for alumni and guests to spend the remainder of that day enjoying a fun-filled picnic at Rockwell Park and an action-packed disco at the Neil House. A bus tour of Columbus will precede the picnic. Convention workshops will be held on Saturday. Topics include recruitment and retention, monetary support and political action. Leaders include Dr. George Davis, professor of Black Studies at Ohio State University, State Rep. Les Brown, City Councilman Jerry Hammond. Dr. Bailus Walker, director of Health Standards with the U.S. Department of Labor, will be the honored speaker at the noon luncheon. That evening activities include a gala awards banquet and delightful dancing to the music of the group Talk of The Town from Youngstown.

The conference concludes with a farewell brunch at 10 a.m. Sunday. All alumni of the university, black educational institutions and the public are invited to the activities. For further information, 476-3780 or 868-1215. Dr. Olivia Thomas is president of the Columbus alumni chapter.

Column On Driving Park Area Begins

By RHONDA DOWNS
The Driving Park Commission, 820 Lilley Ave., will originate a weekly column in the Columbus Call & Post. Our purpose is to keep the community informed of relevant concerns and on-going activities that are taking place within the Driving Park Area.

Currently, there are six steering committees under the commission. Each committee is working effectively within the community to preserve the quality of life for its residents. The committees are as follows:

Executive and Policy

Black Lawyer Named President Elect Of Ohio State Bar Group

By FRANKIE E. JONES
 John A. Howard is the first black man to be voted to head the Ohio State Bar Association in its history. Howard's election was supported by his unanimous endorsement by the Lorain County Bar Association.

"Howard wasn't elected because he was black," Attorney Robert Butler said. "He was the best man for the job."

Not only was Howard's election a "great step forward in regards to blacks," said Attorney Rudolph Janata, it also serves non-racial purposes.

The president-elect, a solo practitioner in law and specializing in domestic affairs, opens the door for lawyers that are not connected to firms.

Attorney David White praised Howard's election, and added that he hopes it will encourage more black participation in the Ohio State Bar Association (OSBA).

"The involvement of Afro-Americans has been entirely too limited," he said. "I hope that Howard's election will encourage them to participate more." White noted that of the 500 people at the OSBA convention at Cleveland in May when Howard was elected president, under 10 blacks participated.

Butler explained that the involvement of black lawyers in the bar may be increased now because of the president-elect's accomplishments.

Howard received his B.A. degree from Florida A & M University in 1945, attended Ohio State University College of Law, graduated from Franklin University Law School in 1949, and has been completing his duties as a lawyer since.

His duties as president-elect include residing over the executive committee, making decisions on policy bar matters, legal professions, and general public affairs. The OSBA has about 1,800 members.

"John's participation throughout the state has given him a great deal of experience," White said. "And John's election was evidence of the members' acknowledgement of his outstanding ability."

Tempo Of Jazz Festival Tour Scores With Partying Extras

By FRANKIE E. JONES

"It believe there's time for everything. A time to work and a time to play, but when we play, we play hard," said Jackie Hendricks referring to her trips to the Jazz Festival with M.J. Tours Inc.

"Of course I go to see the

Seniors Honored

The Fifth Annual Central Ohio Senior Citizen Hall of Fame Awards Ceremony will be 2 p.m. Tuesday, July 8, at the Martin Janic Center, 632 E. 11th Ave. Four senior citizens from Franklin County will be among the 11 honored.

groups perform, but Myrna puts the icing on the cake," she added.

Although the main attraction to Cincinnati in August is the Jazz Festival, according to their customers, M.J. Tours seems to run a close second. Myrna Johnson and her children Travetta, 20, and Travens, 24, have been in the tour business for nine years.

What makes a person transform their garage into an office and provide parties, meals and accommodation for masses of people who may have little or nothing in common?

"Oh, but we do have something in common," Ms. Johnson explained. "We like to have a good time, and that's what I guarantee."

In fact, Ms. Johnson explained that her inspiration of beginning a tour business was the result of having a "bad time."

"The first time I went to the festival was a bad scene. Between the shows I had nothing to do but go back to the hotel," she said. "So I came back home and talked to some of my friends and decided to try a tour organization."

Through 1971-1975, M.J. Tours existed on an informal basis, including friends and relatives. By 1976, they began branching off serving about 61 people, and presently have more than 1000 customers throughout Columbus, Cleveland, Toledo, Baltimore and Philadelphia. And the customers? Well, they range anywhere from "Mr. Joe Cool" to a church deacon.

"I've been traveling with M.J. Tours for three years. Because of the convenience Myrna provides for us like access to front section seats, and bus transportation from the hotel right to the gate, you can't beat it," said Mary Ann Gilbert. She added, "It's easy on your purse and feet."

Myrna has reserved the entire Holiday Inn for her guests in Sharonville Heights. The agenda this

Aug. 1-2 includes all night disco, volleyball, backgammon tournaments, door prizes and contests.

A few of the meals featured will be shrimp cocktail, steak teriyaki, and country style chicken. The cost ranges between $127 and $262 depending on the amount of people and the package one chooses.

Besides providing entertainment with the likes of Peabo Bryson and Earth, Wind, and Fire in Cincinnati, before the festival M.J. Tours will be dealing with another element, Water.

A moonlight cruise along the Ohio river on a double decker party boat will be sponsored 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. July 19. Disco and a smorgasbord buffet will be featured. The cost, $30.

In November an outlet shopping spree will occur in Reading, PA. The cost, $115.

"I've been a participant of Myrna's programs for six years," said JoAnn Howell. "Each year I return there seems to be something added. There's never a dull moment. On the way up, you're excited. On the way back, you're tired, but it's a good time."

And as Myrna, Travetta, and Travens will tell you, that's their goal.

Phyllis' Studio, Orchestra Join In Tribute To Walters

Phyllis' Studio of Music recently held a three-fold event in its continuing effort to widen participation in classical musical.

Bertha Walters of 225 N. Monroe Ave. graciously opened her home to the parents and students of the studio for "An Evening with the Maestro."

The special guest and speaker was Evan Whallon, conductor of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra. A question and answer period followed his speech.

In addition, the orchestra's Woodwind Sextet performed several numbers, described and demonstrated the construction and function of their instruments.

Guests included Mrs. Delight Woodward, third vice president, and Mark Nelson, public relations director of the orchestra.

Mrs. Phyllis Tucker, director of the studio formerly at 1047 E. Long St., chose the home of Mrs.

Walters as a tribute to Mrs. Walter's son, the late Vincent Walters who dedicated his life to teaching classical piano geared toward the enrichment of the city's youths.

Mrs. Tucker advised the parents and students that Phyllis' Studio of Music would now be located at the Monroe Ave. address in an effort to preserve and continue the efforts of the Vincent Walters Academy of Music.

and they certainly can be counted among the Beautiful People.

Peggy is hobbling around with a sprained ankle, but that's not interfering with her planning and commitment. She is preparing a dish for Paul to take to the Merry Makers big UNCF viewing party at the clubhouse. But she is staying at home to host a group of civic-minded friends who are anxious to do their share.

The Earl Littlefields' party plans are coming along fine and they are expecting at least 30 people. Mabel Watkins is a very enthusiastic hostess and her guests will have a very busy evening and a good time.

The Eugene Grillas are planning a rather large party and they are expecting some generous guests. Gussie M. Simon has not talked too much about her party plans, but she has a reputation for doing things well. A limited sampling of others who will host UNCF Telethon parties are Marye Hargrow, Lillie Johnson, Joni Frye, Glen Martin, Walter Harris, James Grey, Lovice Smith, Queen Degraphenreid, O. B. Chambers and Gordon W. Collier.

Several of the clubs opted not to give a party. Instead, they gave very sizeable contributions.

UNCF TELETHON CHAIRMAN Amos H. Lynch discusses one of more than 500 posters circulated under direction of Forest Porter, left, marketing representative of Columbus Distributing Co., to help promote "The Lou Rawls Parade of Stars." The telethon airs this Saturday from 9 p.m. to midnight on WTVN-TV6. At right is C.M. "Mick" Lewis, area manager for Anheuser-Busch Inc., national sponsor of the telecasts which will air in 50 U.S. cities before the year ends, and are geared to generate more than $5 million in new donor contributions to UNCF. As area distributor of Budweiser and other Anheuser-Busch products, Columbus Distributing is also coordinating placement of coin collection cans which will enable big and small contributions to help at counters of their neighborhood stores.

Winning Number Will Be 235-UNCF This Saturday For The 'In Crowd'

235-UNCF will be a busy telephone line on July 5. It is the day that Central Ohio will be treated to the "Lou Rawls Parade of Stars," which is designed to raise money for the United Negro College Fund (UNCF).

The telethon will highlight and influence the social scene. On that evening, the "in crowd" will be those who show that they care and the Beautiful People will be those who go all out to make the media event on WTVN-TV6 a financial success.

Party planners have been hard at work and the methods that they use to wine and dine their guests are quite varied. Most of the parties will be informal.

Some have themes, and most hostesses and hosts have planned so that the party can take place both in and out of doors. Many are serving snacks and fancy finger food and there are several picnics such as the one being co-hosted by Les Wright and Delores Calloway.

Ella F. Pepper on Margaret Ave. is having a ball with her planning and her guest list includes friends from out-of-town. Peggy and Paul Cumming are staunch UNCF supporters

Sullivan Graduates

Margo C. Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Sullivan of 1576 Grandville St., received a bachelor of arts degree from Heidelberg College in Tiffin, Ohio.

A communication and theatre arts major, Ms. Sullivan was named to the Dean's List for compiling a grade-point average of 3.3 or better in the spring semester of the 1979-80 academic year.

Black Woman Plans To Launch TV Show

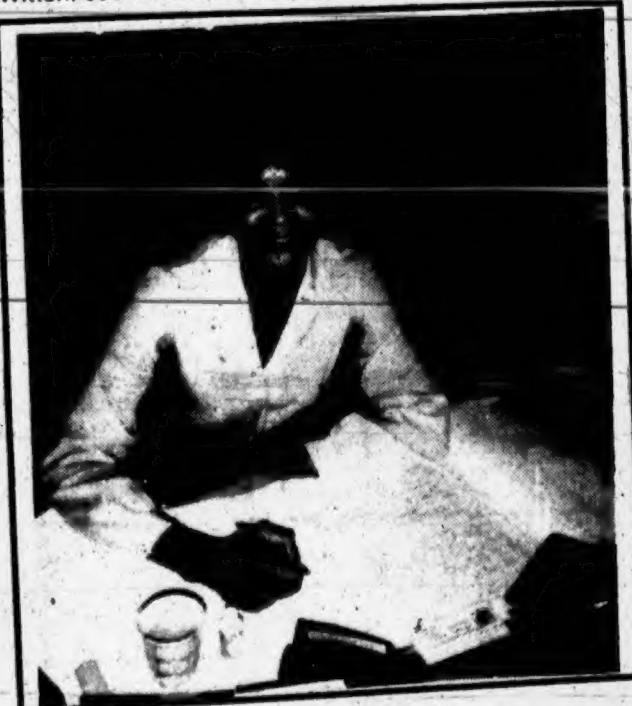

Lou Mallard, who has been guest host of television and radio programs in Detroit and Columbus, will launch her own weekly TV talk and variety show locally.

The show, "Lou & Company," will air each Sunday at 7 p.m. on Co-Ax Channel 13 and KBLE Channel 11. Ms. Mallard said the show will provide exposure to new and existing talent in Central Ohio.

She is publications coordinator at Co-Ax Cable Television and had previously been guest host of the "Eddie Edwards" radio show as well as composer of inspirational recordings.

A graduate of Oakland University, Ms. Mallard hosted various television shows in Detroit, owned and operated a secretarial school for disadvantaged black women, and organized and coordinated fashion shows in that city.

The television host is an author and consultant. Her guests to appear on the show include Walt Neil, local artist, July 6; Sharon Aldridge, poet and president of Aldridge Enterprises, July 13; William B. Craig, chief investigator of Consumer Services for Columbus, and Ruth Witten, coordinator for the agency.

St. Paul Honors Pastor In Wedding Anniversary

By GRACE C. BEASLEY

The Church Family of St. Paul AME Church, 639 E. Long St., honored Pastor and Mrs. Thomas E. Liggins with a 25th Wedding Anniversary Celebration recently at the Berwick Party House, 3250 Refugee Rd.

The elegant affair was well planned by the Anniversary Committee composed of the following: program, Raymond Jackson, Mrs. Dorothy Goins and Mrs. Alecia Roberts; hostesses, Mrs. Gettles Dixon and Mrs. Sarah Moore; reception hour, Rev. Rhennetta Davis and members of the Dolliettes Club; decorations, Mrs. Amy Nickens and Mrs. Carole Smithers; audit, Willie Sullivan; graphics, Wade Roberts and reservations, Col. James B.L. Payne.

Guests greeted the honorees during the reception hour while tasty Hors d'Oeuvres were being served. Charles A. Method, a trustee of St. Paul, was master of ceremonies. Invocation was given by the Rev. William Ricks. Presiding Elder, followed by the Lord's Prayer by Ms. Ila Daniels accompanied by Michael Frazier. A delicious dinner of Toss Salad, Roast Beef, Baked Potatoes, Green Beans with Almonds, rolls, Coffee and Frappe was served.

The program continued with a medley by the Rev. Harold B. Jones, greetings by the Rt. Rev. Vinton R.

PASTOR AND MRS. Thomas E. Liggins of St. Paul AME Church pose during their 25th wedding anniversary. Members of the church held a special celebration in honor of the anniversary.

DR. JAMES KELLY JR., dean of the School of Education at the University of Pittsburgh, speaks of the support he received from the Parishes during his address at the retirement banquet.

THE REV. DR. JAMES W. Parrish, who retired from Shiloh Baptist Church after pastoring for more than 35 years, expresses his appreciation to the more than 500 people attending his retirement banquet. (DALE PHOTOS)

35 Year Ministry At Shiloh Rev. Parrish Retires After

By ELIZABETH C. LANEY
and

"How does it feel to be retired? I asked him.
"Pretty good, so far. I want to do so many things, some teaching, some preaching, some writing, etc. I have reams of notes, accumulated over some of the 60 years of ministerial work. I'd like to do some counseling -- to help out young ministers. I would enjoy teaching Practical Theology.

"Invitations have been coming for some time, but for now we are simply relaxing and enjoying a vacation. We are so very grateful. God has given us many friends and blessed us to work with the wonderful people of Shiloh Baptist Church."

"Do you plan to do any more traveling?"
"Well, yes," my pastor emeritus said.

"We would like to travel. We have visited in each state of the union except Hawaii and Alaska. You remember, the church sent us to Europe. We would enjoy going to other areas though. So far since June 1, we have been trying to catch up on hospital visits to our church friends."

Dr. Parrish continued, "Shiloh members have been so kind to us, not only now, but down through these 35 years. Our future activities will be according to His will. We will always be interested in Shiloh ... we have been members for

MRS. LARUE V. KEELER served as the general chairman of the retirement events for the Rev. Dr. James W. Parrish.

When Dr. Parrish first announced his retirement plans there was sadness among the members of Shiloh, yet the joy for his future happiness and success won out. It was also an opportunity to demonstrate their appreciation of his leadership. So for six months the retirement plans and programming increased, and the members' enthusiasm for the projects did also.

Larue V. Keeler, trustee, was made general chairman of the retirement committee. She presented an agenda for a three phase program in recognition of the first pastor to retire in Shiloh's 110 years.

A Prayer Breakfast at the Sheraton Columbus to "give God the glory" set the tone for the second and third phase. Constance Johnson was chairman of the breakfast with Richard McClure, Juanita Mathews and Barbara Jenkins as co-chairmen.

The breakfast was one of the most spiritually enjoyable affairs ever held in the hotel. The walls of the dining room were decorated with huge papier mache hands clasped in prayer. From the moment the chairman stood and said, "I love the Lord because he has heard my voice and supplication therefore will always call upon Him," through the unique welcome extended by Charlene Sudderth, blessing of the meal by Rev. Robert Callahan, the fervent and emotional prayers by Fannie Riley, Deacon Harlin Goins, Rev. James R. Goodrich and Adolphus Dean, we knew that the Sheraton was now a church.

Anderson Reed was master of ceremonies. He and Atty. James Rickman recognized the presence of Paul Pat Patterson of

RELIGIOUS NOTES Rev. McCollough Leaves Columbus

The Rev. Larry McCollough, religious broadcaster and associate minister at Refuge and New Bethlehem Baptist churches, has been appointed religious program director at radio WFDR-FM in Manchester, Ga.

Rev. McCollough's program "Miracles in Melody" has been heard in Central Ohio on WBBY-FM, WBNS-FM and WFCB in Chillicothe. The Georgia station is a 100,000 watt outlet.

"I believe the majority of black people in Columbus are ready for a professionally done program of current gospel music," he said.

Evangelist Mary Pace, building fund president of Apostolic Glorious Church, 517 St. Clair Ave., will sponsor a bazaar consisting of baked goods, barbecue chicken and ribs and household articles from 9 a.m. until on Saturday at Windsor Terrace Recreation Center, 1424 Brooks Ave.

The Song Leaders Institute will present its annual students' recital at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at Shining Light Bible Mission, 2503 Cleveland Ave.

Announcing Pontiac's 1980 Bonneville. A driving experience that goes a long way.

Pontiac Bonneville for 1980 will surprise you. Based on aerodynamic design, Bonneville takes you farther on a gallon than you may have thought possible with a full-size luxury car. The Bonneville goes far on exterior and interior styling, too.

18 EPA EST. MPG	450 EST. RANGE
24 HWY. EST.	600 HWY. EST. RANGE

Outside, a sleek new aerodynamic hood. And a more formal roofline. Inside, simulated walnut trims the instrument panel from door to door. A padded steering wheel. And richly trimmed doors with pull straps. With standard notchback seats or optional contoured buckets. Altogether, the Bonneville goes a long way performing and looking beautiful.

Test drive one soon. It will be one of the most exciting driving experiences you have had in years. By far.

Remember: compare the boxed estimated mpg to the "estimated mpg" of other cars. You may get different mileage and range depending on your speed, trip length and weather. Your actual highway mileage and range will probably be less than the highway estimates. Bonneville's range estimates were obtained by multiplying EPA and highway estimates by the car's 25 gallon fuel tank capacity. Bonneville is equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. See your dealer for details.

"The very essence of racism is the proposition that where burdens are to be borne, Black people must bear them."

Bishop Hickey - A Tribute

It was Wednesday, June 20, 1979. The previous Saturday I had returned home to Grambling State University from Rome and Africa, where I had pursued my internship for my doctoral studies. Filled with the aura of Rome, Primal See of the Catholic Church, and the mystique of Africa, our Motherland, I was anxious to engage in summer campus ministry, design the programs for the Fall and Spring sessions, and begin the writing of my doctoral dissertation!

My life was interrupted when I turned an urgent phone call to the Most Reverend James Aloysius Hickey, the Bishop of Cleveland. He greeted me cordially, and with soft voice, pleasant tones, and careful directness, challenged me to alter my life forever. "Jim," he uttered, "The Holy Father has nominated you to the Office of Bishop, to serve as the auxiliary here in Cleveland! Will you accept?"

Monday evening, June 16th, Bishop Hickey called the episcopal vicars to his office for an "emergency meeting." In those same sensitive tones, he immediately stunned his auxiliary bishops with the news: "A few days ago I received a phone call from the Apostolic Delegate. The Holy Father has asked me to serve as the Archbishop of Washington, D.C. In holy obedience, I must accept." It was almost a year to date, that in a similar fashion he broke into my life, and in the name of the same Pope John Paul II called me to obedience to serve the People of God as bishop.

James Aloysius Hickey is a remarkable human being. His soft-spoken voice and warm disposition are reflective of an inner solitude and quiet through which he places himself as a listener and bearer of the human experience and the life of the Church. He feels deeply, pines intensely, rejoices exuberantly, cares profoundly, and loves profusely-but from the strength of tenderness and gentleness. He makes little noise, but the sound is symphonic and resonant.

At the June 1st annual Catholic Interracial Council Banquet, following the address of Bishop Joseph Francis, Black auxiliary bishop of Newark, New Jersey, Bishop Hickey rose to share his own convictions concerning the sin of racism. In bringing healing to a broken and divided world and in working for the elimination of racism, he spoke firmly, "We must be perceptive, persevering, and prayerful."

Pertinent as these words are in dealing with the evil of racism, they are more apropos in describing the manner in which Bishop Hickey himself approaches his ministry of service to his people. He always attempts to understand thoroughly and precisely the issues involved. For this reason, the consultation process in the Diocese of Cleveland is perhaps the most extensive in the United States. Further, once he decides to act, once he is convinced of how to proceed, he persists and endures; he never gives up. Finally, in his thinking and doing, he tries to root himself in the Gospel and the teachings of the Church. In other words, he listens to the Lord in prayer while he shares with his brothers and sisters in dialogue.

The Bishop is a shepherd who is the first to trust. In offering trust to those with whom he works and whom he pastors, he inspires a sense of confidence and enthusiasm.

For me, James Aloysius Hickey has been a father and friend, a brother and breather of life. I thank Pope John Paul II for entrusting me to his care, and I praise the Holy Father for his wisdom in appointing him to the Capital See of Washington, D.C.

Bishop Hickey, peace be with you!

Most Reverend James P. Lyke, O.F.M., D.D. Auxiliary Bishop of Cleveland

Do We Really Understand The Causes of Riots?

What triggers a riot? Who really knows. Morris S. Thompson, a writer for the Miami Herald, in commenting on the recent riots there, quoting a Black couple said: "There were people out there who couldn't even spell McDuffie, running up and down, talking about revenge. Revenge for what? They didn't even know what they were talking about."

Who really knows what they were talking about when trying to determine what makes people riot and do what they do.

Congressman John Conyers, Jr. of Detroit, writing about the Miami riot said: "(Miami) failed to learn from the Detroit experience that the whip-and-gun method of containment eventually will lead to counterforce, and, that police oppression undermines respect for the law and continue to suffer such outrageous abuse without striking back."

Is it then revenge against a brutal police force, or, as some others claim, frustration over joblessness? Perhaps the old cliché: "Idle hands are the devil's workshop," is the real source of restlessness.

There is no question but that idleness, due to no jobs, is a big factor in racial unrest.

A big contributing cause for the continuing increase in Black unemployment is the outward movement of industry into areas where there is no public transportation. To get a job today you must own an automobile. With the constant increase in the cost of gasoline, it is twice as expensive to drive a car now.

Therefore, those persons who are so critical of Black people, should stop and do a little investigating. It is quite a difference going to work on a bus at a $1.00 a day round trip than driving a car with gasoline at $1.25 a gallon.

The American businessman, in his desire to get out of the city, has himself created the social problems that now affect thousands of inner city people.

Racism in our police departments has long been a lighted fuse. Des-the problem.

There are many ingredients in a bomb. However, each bomb needs a fuse to explode it. The first job then is to defuse the racial bomb that exists in every urban city. After that, we can dismantle the contents.

As long as this nation permits the fuse to burn, we can expect riotous explosions. It will just be a question of what city is next.

Will Blacks in America Ever Unite Upon A Goal?

by: Lonnie Hudspeth

After over 350 years in America, Blacks still have not decided whether to collectively pursue integration or separation from the mainstream as the means of achieving functional freedom and self-determination. The dominant inclination toward either path has vacillated like a see-saw since the formation of the United States. In the same way that integrationist sentiments, historically, have always corresponded with periodic demonstrations of receptiveness by whites, separatist factions tend to arise in reaction to white rejection. It seems unfortunate, however, even ironic, that in striving for their freedom, a condition in which some measure of self-determination is inherent, Black people should choose their path according to the whims of their oppressors. Perhaps an examination of this trend through the history of Blacks in America during slavery and after will illumine the problem, its growing complexity and what strategies could be implemented for combating it.

DOWN THE BIG ROAD

By WILLIAM O. WALKER

Are We Being Written Off

The bitter presidential primaries are over. Within a week, the Republican National Convention will convene in Detroit. The Republican nominee of course, will be Ronald Reagan, a former movie star and former governor of California. A platform and the selection of a vice-presidential candidate, is all that remains for the delegates to do.

A month later, the Democrats will gather in New York City. President Jimmy Carter will go into the convention with a sizeable majority of the delegates. However, U.S. Senator, Kennedy, smarting under his defeat by President Carter for delegates, still is saying that he expects to wage a floor fight for the Democratic nomination. But, by all odds, President Carter should be the nominee of the convention.

Since Carter is expected to keep Mondale as his running mate, the presidential ticket for the November election, is now set with only the Republican vice-presidential candidate to be added.

In the primary campaigns, neither one of the two surviving candidates made any noticeable effort to garner the Black vote. Other than some Black Congressmen who furnished side show acts for Senator Kennedy, no Negroes were noticeably active in any of the candidates campaigns. And, none of the candidates really committed himself to any demand of our people. Whatever part Negroes played in any of the primary campaigns, it was not publicized.

This then raises the question as to whether both political parties have now written the Black vote off? So far, there seems to be no rush to make overtures to Black voters. On the basis of the results of the last presidential election, both Carter and Reagan know how important our vote is to final victory. Yet both political parties are ominously silent over the Negro question. Other than that a Negro has been selected as the Republican convention secretary, no word has come out of either party as any prominent part Negroes will play.

It has long been said that the Democrats take Negroes for granted. Carl Rowan, in a recent article, said the Republicans take Negroes as "irrelevant." So, what's the difference.

What is influencing the attitudes of both political parties is the apathetic attitude Negroes are showing to politics. Every election shows a sizeable reduction in the Negro vote. This, plus the refusal of Negro voters to support their own candidates, is causing many White politicians to reassess their position as to whether the Black vote is worth going after. This is what is happening now in many counties in Ohio.

Perhaps the years of docility on the part of Black Democrats have paralyzed their ability to think intelligently on the imporance of politics. As long as politicians know that they can count our votes before they are cast, our voice in party councils will not carry much weight. For a while, Cong. Louis Stokes and then George Forbes were co-chairmen of the Cuyahoga Democratic Party. Their presence was hardly noticed and their influence nil.

In Cleveland, west side Democrats openly and defiantly reject Black Democratic candidates in election after election. They even vote against White candidates who show any concern or support for a Black candidate or civil rights issues. Yet, Black voters knowing this, accept these insults and indignities with no resentment whatsoever. Many White candidates in Cleveland wage two campaigns, one for Whites on the westside and one for Blacks. This too is not resented by Black voters.

Awakening Negroes to these indignities has been most frustrating. It seems that when election day comes around we lose all of our manhood and racial loyalties. We vote blindly and then complain about how they are treating us afterwards.

This year's elections are going to set the pattern for the eighties. If, as it now appears, both political parties write off the Negro vote, you are going to see a big resurgence of racism all over the United States.

The road for Black progress has always been blocked. The only time we have made progress is when we have detoured around them. The time has come for the Negro to stop and face facts. We progress only when we are willing to fight for our rights. When you are taken for granted, you are in trouble. This certainly seems to be where we are now in American politics. We have the voting power, but it's no good unless we use it.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

By JOHN B. COMBS, Columbus Bureau

State Booze Hike Coming

In order to help meet the three percent budget cutback of the state's elected administrative officials, mandated by Gov. James A. Rhodes with the approval of the leaders of the Ohio Senate and House of Representatives, booze prices at state liquor stores will be hiked five percent within the next couple of weeks.

Rhodes, perhaps mindful of his 1975 campaign pledges that no new taxes would be imposed by his administration, issued an order requiring three percent cuts in general fund spending by all state agencies beginning July 1. Cuts over and above the three percent will be voluntary.

The hike on each of the 1,060 liquor brands Ohioans can purchase at the 436 state-operated package stores and agencies, is aimed at balancing the state budget which faces a $266 million deficit, they said.

While the three percent cuts will effect all elected administrative chiefs, Rhodes, Senate President Oliver Ocasek and House Speaker Vern Riffe Jr., agreed to reduce their budgets by five percent. The cuts, however, they feel, will not necessitate the laying off of personnel.

Although there was no estimate of exactly how far the liquor hike will go toward saving the state's projected $266 million deficit, the reason liquor is being made the target is obvious. Liquor, like gasoline is going to sell regardless of how high the prices jump.

Of course they may have to beef up the state's liquor law of enforcement agents, especially along the Ohio River to prevent those who might choose to transport liquor from Kentucky or other border states where booze is substantially cheaper.

But in spite of this possibility, perhaps many social liquor entertainers will think twice before inviting friends and associates to drop in on them for a few drinks of their choice beverages.

Plant Closings

The late conservative economist Joseph Schumpeter once called capitalism a process of "creative destruction." On the creative side, corporate directors and investors can search for increased profits as local and state governments compete with one another to give big business tax abatements and other forms of corporate welfare. On the other hand, the destructive impact of plant closings in terms of workers careers and urban blight does not show on the corporate balance sheet.

Ohio has become a major battleground in have also revealed that professional and managerial employees also suffer severe downward occupational mobility. Moreover, employees put out of work by plant closings are more likely to commit suicide and have heart disease than other workers.

Perhaps the most shocking finding is that viable profit making businesses may be closed down because large profits are available elsewhere. U.S. Steel was not forced to close as a result of Environmental Protection Agency regulations, transportation costs, or cheap imports. The real reason behind its decision was the loss of their jobs. They realized all too fully that they are likely to take pay cuts in their next jobs and will probably never again find permanent employment. Recent studies hotels in Florida, and overseas investments. Unfortunately, blacks are hit hardest by corporate greed. Between 1969 and 1976 at least 15 million jobs were destroyed in the U.S.

as a result of shutdowns. In the Frostbelt, 111 jobs were lost for every 100 created; in the Sunbelt and Far West 80 were destroyed for every 100 created. Surprisingly, the South was the leading victim of plant closings. Thus the regions in which blacks are most heavily concentrated lost jobs while those with relatively small black populations gained jobs. In addition, the sector of the economy blacks are most heavily employed in--manufacturing--was the biggest loser.

While the Youngstown steelworkers failed in their attempt to get the courts to force U.S. Steel to sell the plant to the employees, there is some hope. The state legislature is currently considering the Community Readjustment Act which would require corporations shutting down large plants to provide two years advance notice, severance pay and extended health benefits to the workers, and assistance payments to the community. One can only representatives as the international business community. Creative destruction should be exercised at the ballot box if they do not.

CANCER
Cancer Answers by Paul G. Dymant, M.D., appears through the courtesy of the Cleveland Clinic Cancer Center. Questions may be directed to the Cancer Center at 9500 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio 44106.

QUESTION
Would you please explain why some people say cancer "eats away" an area affected by cancer and other people refer to an area "growing" or becoming enlarged. Are there two different effects from tumors of cancer?

ANSWER
Cancers do not really "eat away" normal tissues. The body is composed of tissues (such as skin or muscle) each of which is composed of countless microscopic-sized cells. Cancers occur when one of these cells becomes "malignant" and it starts to divide producing more malignant cells in an uncontrolled way. As this growing mass of cancer cells expands it becomes large enough to be seen or felt and it could then be called a malignant tumor. As the tumor grows it extends into adjacent areas.

BLACK LEADERS Roger Germany (left) and Tom Fullove temporarily reserved comment on the institution of a new policy, announced Tuesday by Franklin County Prosecutor Michael Miller, which requires that all cases involving a death inflicted by a weapon be presented to the Franklin County Grand Jury.

Neighbors Complain About Rats, Roaches In Abandoned House

Residents on Marston Ave., in Columbus' Near North say they have finally been promised relief from rats and roaches that infest a vacated house on the street. Residents say they have complained for weeks to the city's Health Department.

"If they don't board it up, my mouth will be opened again," promised Gloria Hope last Tuesday. Ms. Hope called the CALL & POST after she said calls about the infested house to the Health Department didn't get any results. The house was scheduled to be boarded up Wednesday.

The house, at 1970 Marston Ave., has been vacant since it was abandoned by a woman and her 10 children, Ms. Hope and residents on the street told the CALL & POST. They claimed that the rats were "as big as cats" and that the roaches were coming onto their yards.

"People have been driving by and looking at that place in disbelief," said Loretta McDearmon of 1980 Marston. She said she was "disgusted" with the house and the lack of action from the city.

"I don't want to hurt anybody, but I don't want those rats hurting my kids," Ms. Hope said. She said calls to the Health Department got the response that until the owner of the house was notified, they could not rid it of the rats and roaches.

After a television station reported the infested house with broken windows, broken furniture and a terrible odor, the housing inspector for the city came out and promised to board the house up.

INFESTED HOUSE - A picture of the kitchen of the abandoned house at 1970 Marston Ave. shows the garbage and other items that have attracted rats and roaches to the house.

Roaches ran freely throughout every room of the house. And the residents on the street said that they had scattered lime around their yards to keep the roaches away.

The other houses on the street are well-kept. "Everybody just ignored the neighborhood because we're black," said Ms. McDearmon.

The residents said that they would wait to see if the city finally does something about the house before seeing if they can take some kind of action to rid their street of the rats and roaches living in the house.

New Policy Sends Flint Case To The County's Grand Jury

"Everybody seems to want this," Franklin County Prosecutor Michael Miller said Tuesday after announcing that his office was immediately instituting a new policy which requires the Flint case, and all other cases involving a death inflicted by a weapon, be presented to the Franklin County Grand Jury.

"It is hoped that this new procedure will be acknowledged by the entire community as a fair and just remedy. I am happy to state that all community leaders I have spoken to have enthusiastically approved this new policy. Included in this group are Mayor Tom Moody, Chief Earl Burden, and Sheriff Harry Berkeimer," he added.

In addition, Miller announced that the Executive Board of the Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) strongly supports the new policy. "The decision should have been made several years ago," but the timing is poor because it appears to have been made as a result of the Flint case, FOP President Ross Rader said after the news conference.

MICHAEL MILLER
...county prosecutor

Miller declined to say who suggested the idea for the new policy but he did acknowledge, however, that it was not any of the individuals or groups suggested by reporters. Mayor Moody, Safety Director Bernard Chupka and black leaders were among those suggested as possibilities. But when asked what was the most significant factor in his decision to institute the new policy at this time, Miller replied that it was "something that needs to be done to benefit the community as a whole at this time."

...killed by police

But a group of blacks were concerned about the decision to present all cases involving death by use of a weapon to the Grand Jury. Among their concerns is the accompanying legal stipulation that "only the ultimate decision of the Grand Jury can be announced." This means that the proceedings will be secret and cannot be commented upon.

"We are pleased with the new policy, especially as it relates to the Flint case. Beyond that we have no comment," Hilltop Civic Association President Roger Germany said. And Columbus Chapter NAACP President Tom Fullove added that black community leaders needed more time to confer with legal counsel before issuing a definite statement on the policy.

Germany and Fullove were speaking for the group of eight black leaders who met with Miller immediately preceding his announcement of the new policy. James Evans, WKCO radio News Director; 31st House District Republican Candidate Ray Jones; Clarence Lumpkin, president of the South Linden Leadership Group; the Rev. Michael Reeves; Driving Park Civic Association President Khari Enaharo; and Jesse Wood from the County Auditor's Office completes the group's membership.

This was the second time they have met with Miller regarding the Sherman Flint shooting. Flint, who lived at 619 S. 22nd St., is the 27-year-old black man who was shot in the back and killed by undercover vice squad police officers two weeks ago.

Tuesday's announcement marked the second time officials have instituted a policy change after meetings on the Flint case. The first decision to change policy was made approximately one week after his death when it was announced that the officers who shot Flint would be reassigned to desk duties and that such action would hereinafter be the rule rather than an exception.

Alcoholism Board Meet

The advisory board for the Urban Minority Alcoholism Outreach program will meet at 3 p.m. July 8 at the Columbus Area Council on Alcoholism offices, 1706 E. Broad St.

Mt. Vernon Plaza To Have Social Service Director

Recognizing a growing need to coordinate social services for the senior citizens and all persons residing in Mt. Vernon Plaza, William M. Potter, executive vice-president and chief operating officer of the Neighborhood Development Corp., has announced the addition of a social service director to the Neighborhood Development Corp. staff.

"We have long recognized the need of coordination of social services to all residents of this 26-acre complex," Potter said. He named the Rev. W. Roscoe Walls, former outreach minister at Bethany Presbyterian Church.

Walls will be engaged for 20 hours per week to perform his duties and will attempt to marshal available resources for Plaza residents to meet their social service needs, Potter said.

Walls' permanent office will be in the Highrise building. He is tentatively housed in the NDC's executive offices, Potter said. The permanent office will be designated the Mt. Vernon Plaza Social Services Office.

The 53 year old minister, a native of Winston Salem, N.C., has lived and worked in Columbus for 10 years. He received a bachelor's degree from Johnson C. Smith University in Charlotte, and a master of divinity degree from the Interdenominational Theological Center in Atlanta.

He has also attended Duke University and the University of North Carolina. His ministerial experience includes pastorships at Broad Street Presbyterian Church in Statesville and Timothy Darling Presbyterian Church in Oxford, N.C.

As outreach minister for Bethany Presbyterian, Walls administered innovative summer employment and placement programs for youths and adults.

"As a minister, I have been close to the problems of the young and aging, as well as problems of the family, and as a social and community worker, I am aware of the need for coordination of programs for persons of all ages," Walls said.

The program really requires a full-time effort according to Potter, but budgetary restraints force NDC to restrict the effort to 20 hours per week.

Walls has also received special training in the early '70s at the Urban Training Center in Chicago. He views his responsibilities at Mt. Vernon Plaza as concern for the "total life experience" of the residents.

The Immigration Problem

One big cry about the influx of Cubans is that so many of the immigrants are from Cuban jails and prisons, that Castro shipped all or as many trouble makers as he could get into boats to the United States. There is a right objection to flooding this land with criminals. But look who is talking.

Those Americans who proudly dip their ancestry back into Colonial times do not realize that their progenitors, in so many cases, came from European prisons. They were out and out jail birds.

It was a common practice for the monarchs of colonies to empty their jails by shipping off the trouble makers to colonies, not only English but French.

The black man of Africa sand over our quota--another example of the small nations of the world making a jackass out of this nation because it is trying to be kind to the world.

Maybe there is a great influx of Cuban criminals but there must be a reason why they were criminals. From some reports of the country's economy one can guess that many of them were economic criminals like so many American wrongdoers--men without jobs and denied chances to get jobs, others doing just what comes naturally although some ancient creeds deem the actions criminal.

Their brand of being criminals does not necessarily mean that they have mental twists that make them anti-social but social opportunities have driven them into the corner of being criminals and objected to by the uprighteous.

So many Americans shouted with glee when Russia broke out with a rash of defectors, thinking the defecting was proof of the rotten core of Communism instead of thinking deeper to the possibility that the defectors were criminals (standard house breakers, burglars, rapists and murderers one step in front of the pursuing Soviet police).

The Cuban refugees come, they will be pocketed about the country in their own communities, they will retain many of their customs of eating, living, entertainment, dress and mannerisms for a time.

Swafford Enters Race For Clerk Of Courts

Flora M. Swafford, democratic candidate for Franklin County Clerk of Courts, officially kicked off her campaign recently with a news conference centered around the operation of the Clerk of Courts Office.

She places special emphasis on the long lines and long wait Franklin County citizens are presently forced to endure when getting their auto titles. As a solution Mrs. Swafford suggested the use of flex-time, even if it means opening up the office one-half day on Saturdays. This can be done without additional cost to taxpayers, she declared.

Relative to her qualifications for the office, Mrs. Swafford, of 1960 Stratford Way, cited her nine years of experience working for the Federal Government. She especially emphasized her employment with the Internal Revenue Service and the U.S. Army Finance Cooperation.

The Committee to Elect Swafford is chaired by Jeff Portman. Its membership consists of Frank Hale Jr., Gertrude Donahay, Osborne Smallwood, Charles Mentel, L.B. LaCour, Jerry Hammond, Mike Hackett, Charles Barbee, Jim Minor, Cathy Ashley and Kathryn Hammerstein.

WHAT?/WHERE?/WHEN? Far-Southside Reunion Being Planned For YMCA Playground

Residents and former residents of the Far-Southside are invited to participate in an afternoon and evening of diversified activities at the Southside YMCA Community Center Playground, 2088 Parsons Ave., from noon until Saturday, Aug. 30.

Games and special activities of interest (to be highlighted with an old fashioned "bring your own basket picnic dinner") for all age groups are being planned by a committee headed by Ulysses Scarver, 1393 E. Whittier St.; John Stidoms, 1926 Stratford Way; and Elizabeth Horton, 1159 Bryden Rd.

Persons wishing to volunteer their services to the planning committee and who want to register their intent to participate on Aug. 30 are encouraged to call Scarver at 252-4110.

"New Decade/New Dedication" will be the theme for the 1980 convention of the National Secretaries Association (International), which is scheduled to be held July 14-18 at the New York Hilton, New York City.

Among the 1700 registrants expected at the convention will be 10 members of the Columbus Chapter. The official delegate will be Eileen Walling, CPS chapter president. The alternate delegate will be Mary Taylor, CPS chapter president-elect.

Delegates and members will hear experts speaking on a number of subjects. Gloria Steinem, an editor and writer for The New Ms., will give the keynote address, "The Women's Movement: Ten Years Later," at the opening general assembly, Monday, July 14.

Other speakers will include John Mack Carter, editor-in-chief of Good Housekeeping magazine and director of New Magazine Development; for the Hearst Corporation; C. William Verity, Jr., chairman of the Board of Directors of Armco Steel Corp. and chairman of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce; and S.J. Kalow, manager of Office Systems, International Business Machines Corporation.

Andrew Young, former Ambassador to the United Nations, will headline the list of speakers scheduled for the 49th national meeting of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., July 19-25 in Atlanta at the Georgia World Congress Center.

The conference will also feature workshops, a 100-booth exhibition, special presentations and a performance by Lou Rawls. Young will speak July 20 on "Influencing Decisions."

Youth Honored By Omicron Chapter

Omicron Chapter of Gamma Phi Delta Sorority, a business and professional women's sorority, recently paid tribute to the youth in commemoration of the International Year of the Child with a dinner-dance at the Imperial House North Motel in Dayton, Ohio.

Sorors from Springfield, Columbus and as far away as Detroit joined the Dayton based chapter for this elegant celebration.

Escorting the honored guests and sorors to the dance were: Clinton Leroy Bryant, Darryl Lee Knight, Ricardo Juan Knight, Chuck Mabra, Theodore Tyler Thomas and Ernest Scott Jackson.

The speaker for the program was the 1979 Miss International Phi-Teen of Gamma Phi Delta, Eugenia Collette Payne of Westland, Mich., and a freshman at Ohio State University. Michele Denise Osman of Columbus was presented as the "Artist of Tomorrow." She rendered a solo "Home" from the "Wiz."

Other awards presented were: Dyanette Ghislaine Knight, Columbus, The Ella Major Scholarship; Ms. Knight is a 1980 June graduate of Bishop Hartley High School. Soror Adeline Bule and Rozella Turner, members of Omicron Chapter were presented Humanitarian Award and Outstanding Service awards respectively. Soror Ella Major was presented as the Omicron "Soror of the Year."

Special recognition was given to Rosan Knight-Hall, Basileus of Omicron Chapter by Soror Sarah Davenport in behalf of the chapter, and Soror Mary F. Myles, Northern Regional Director, Detroit, in behalf of the Northern Region.

Rev. Parish Retires

WCVO radio who remarked about the absence of commercial TV cameras to record the festivities. (WCVO has applied for a local religious TV outlet).

David Smith eloquently introduced Dr. H. Beecher Hicks Sr., pastor emeritus, Mt. Olivet, as guest speaker.

Dr. Hicks said, in part, "Dr. and Mrs. Parrish will be entering a new adventure with Christ and they know that 'Prayer is the Prelude to Power'. Long before we had TV we had J.C. Life is the time to serve the Lord. The men that have been the most powerful are men who have been able to pray."

"A lot of people are weak because they have a chronic power outage. God sometimes invites us to pray and sometimes forces us to pray. If you want to have power, nothing wrong about having Holy Ghost power, but talk to Him first. You can't manufacture power, you can't buy power, you can't win power, you can't lease power, because prayer is the prelude to power."

Dr. Hicks further told Shiloh members that God has a new leader being prepared for them.

Daisy Muse and Theresa Hall sang a duet, and Frank Cleveland Jr. sang "God bless dear Shiloh." Ellen Barksdale and Barbara Cleveland were the accompanists.

The choir of Shiloh presented a musical extravaganza in the second phase of the retirement schedule. Doris Jones was chairman. Mary Shepherd and Bessie Scott were co-chairmen. The choir serenaded the Parrishes by singing their favorite songs selected by the honorees.

Again, as before, for the prayer breakfast, the lower auditorium was crowded. Each choir sang two selections. A guest choir from Franklin Alternative Jr. High sang gospel songs. Dorothy Alexander was director. The Parrishes graciously accepted the musical accolades. The program was a beautiful success.

The retirement banquet at the Sheraton-Columbus ended the three phase program of entertainment. During the previous three month period Dr. and Mrs. Parrish were guests on radio and TV and had been covered in the newspapers. The testimonial dinner was quite elaborate and a happy occasion.

Harvey Randolph, chairman of the Shiloh Baptist Deacon Board, was master of ceremonies. Tributes to the Parrishes were paid by Dr. E.B. Hicks, minister of cooperative relationships, and Dr. John A. Sundquist, executive secretary of the Ohio Baptist Convention and the American Baptist Convention, Rev. A.W. Wood, executive secretary, Ohio Baptist General Convention, Rev. Odell Waller, president, Columbus Baptist Ministerial Alliance, Dr. J.J. Ashburn, Columbus Baptist Pastor's Conference, Dr. William Ricks, presiding elder, Columbus District AME Church, Dr. Florence Donald, center director, Columbus Neighborhood House, R.C. Zimmer assistant to president, Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, Dr. H.B. Hicks, pastor emeritus of Mt. Olivet, represented Columbus City Council and Mayor Tom Moody, for Dr. John Rosemond, Mrs. Clarence Long, widow of Rev. C. Long of Mt. Airy Baptist, Washington, D.C. Mrs. Elfrida P. Scott, First Baptist, Rep. Otto Beatty, 31st district, presented a plaque from the State. Plaques and citations plus other gifts accompanied remarks given above.

The Honorable Grady L. Pettigrew, judge, U.S. Bankruptcy Court, introduced the guest speaker, Dr. James Kelly Jr., dean, School of Education, University of Pittsburgh. Dr. Kelly told of the many kindnesses he had received from the Parrishes.

Kelly's seminar training was quite evident as he spoke of his association with the honorees. He also brought greetings from the dean emeritus, School of Education, University of Pennsylvania, the vice-chancellor of Public Affairs and the Chancellor of the University.

In his discussion, Dr. Kelly talked of concern, competence and commitment. "Competence, given our knowledge explosion, accelerated rate of change and the demands of the present and future, means that to be competent in any field these days is no easy task."

"Half of what a person learns in childhood is no longer apparent when he reaches middle life — one third of the items on the mind are either removed or improved. Fifty percent of the labor force earns its living from an industry which did not exist when this century began. Three fourths of all the people employed by industry 12 years from now will be producing goods not yet invented."

"Half of what a graduate engineer studies today will be obsolete in ten years — half of what he will need to know is not yet known by any of us. That's an opinion, a kind of suggestion about the fantastic rate of change in our world today. To keep abreast, to maintain one's competence and to continue to develop in times like these is no easy task," he said.

Following Dr. Kelly's tribute to Dr. Parrish, presentations were made to the honorees by Deacon W.T.

BASIC ENDED - Airman Johnny L. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny L. Walker Jr., of 2888 N. Cassady Ave., has been assigned to Presidio of Monterey, Calif., after completing basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. He is a 1979 graduate of Mifflin High and will now receive specialized instruction in the voice processing field.

NEW LOCATION - Airman Paul K. Jones, son of Annie Jones of 735 Berkeley Rd., has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, after completing basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio. A 1975 graduate of South High, he will receive specialized instruction in the transportation field.

Ms. Welch noted that the program should have some impact on the unemployment rate for black youth, which is currently at 39.4 percent. For white youth it is 14.7 percent.

The adult workers will be paid at the end of each work day. Tasks assigned will be one day tasks or tasks that can be subdivided into one day increments, Ms. Welch said.

The adults have to report each day to sites in neighborhoods or the central office, she said. For information on either of the programs, call 222-6186 or 222-7829.

Abortions Ruling Said To Endanger Some Poor Women

court held that the Hyde Amendment was constitutional. That amendment, which was passed by Congress four years ago, put a ban on Medicaid financing for most abortions.

Since it was passed, it has cut federally financed abortions from 300,000 a year to under 2,000. The court said the federal government must fund abortions for women when they are victims of rape and the rape is promptly reported, or "where life of the mother would be endangered if the fetus were carried to term."

Ms. Boykin said she hopes the state of Ohio would not take away the right of women to decide if they do not want to have a baby. "What you have to do is caution the state against taking the easy way out," she said.

Meanwhile, a spokeswoman for the National Committee to Combat Women's Oppression said, "There is cause for great sadness and anger among the women of America."

Coordinator Anne Manley said in a press statement that while the government reduced monies for abortion, 90 percent of sterilization procedures are federally funded.

Burk then tried to enter that apartment and Ms. Quinchett fired five shots from the revolver, the detective said. He said Burk's body was found lying in a hallway near an apartment occupied by Diane Smith, 3353 Urban Hollow Court, Apt. A.

Team and Urbancrest V.A.C.C. Community Baseball Team.

In addition, Burk was a U.S. Army veteran. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent (Margie) Burk; son, Dwayne; sisters, Mrs. Ruby (Gaius) Griffie, Mrs. Lois (Levi) Horton, Mrs. Mary Skeaton, Miss Patricia Burk, Mrs. Rachel (Darren) Wood, Mrs. Lynn (Joyce) Burk, Mrs. Dorothy (Beverly) Burk, Arnold Burk; maternal grandmother, Mrs. May Belle Thornton; several aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins and many friends.

Interment was in the soldier section of Greenlawn Cemetery.

RESEARCH FELLOW - Robert E. Bradley, direct placement supervisor at the Columbus Urban League, will be granted a one-year leave of absence to attend Columbia University in New York as a National Urban Fellow. Bradley received his B.S. degree in administrative science from Ohio State University. He joined the Urban League in 1978. He was one of 20 persons selected from more than 1,800 applicants.

Boyfriend Is Charged In Flendish Stabbing Death Of Clergyman's Daughter

Sheriff's Sgt. Jack Harris, the chief investigator in the case, said Pennington was found inside the house and admitted the savage slaying.

Pennington had a small cut on his right hand, Harris said.

He was taken to the Franklin County Jail on a charge of aggravated murder. He was arraigned in Municipal Court and ordered held under a $100,000 bond for a preliminary hearing on Thursday at 1:30 p.m.

The victim's body, according to Harris, was lying in the bedroom of the apartment. Blood was smeared on the walls at the bathroom entrance nearby, Harris said.

Miss Lee had sustained multiple stab wounds, "all over, between her hips and her chest," deputies said.

Sheriff's Detective Dan Mershon said Pennington went to the victim's apartment at an undetermined hour, and found another man there. The other man, whose identity was not disclosed, left, Pennington and Miss Lee then became involved in an argument and the ensuing fight "resulted in her death," Mershon said.

Elder Lee said the family moved to Worthington from Florida about 18 months ago. He said his daughter was attempting to decide whether to pursue a career in medicine or law.

Brenda, Miss Lee's 22 year old sister of the Worthington address, said Sherry was a graduate of Bermuda High School in Bermuda. She had been salutatorian of her graduating class, Brenda said.

After attending Oakwood College, (a Seventh Day Adventist institution), Sherry transferred to Ohio State University last year in a pre-law course, Brenda said.

Her sister moved into the apartment about 10 days before her death because "she just wanted to be a working woman and go out and meet the world," Brenda explained.

Sherry recently took a secretarial job connected with the CETA program, Brenda said.

In the meantime, Miss Lee was eulogized Monday in a final rites at Ephesus Seventh Day Adventist Church at an 11 a.m. service. Survivors include father, Rev. Jerry D. (Mary) Lee Jr., sister, Brenda Michelle Lee, brothers, Terry D. III and Donovan, grandfather, Jerry D. Lee Sr., aunts, Sadie Rose, Effie Lee, Aurora Wilson, Rose Pilgrim, Nancy Burroughs, uncle, Aclie Cooper and a host of other relatives and friends.

Pastor Jethro H. Lester officiated at the funeral service. Interment followed in Glen Rest Memorial Estate with Crosby's Funeral Home in charge.

Testimony Ends In Murder Trial Of Northend Man

Testimony in the aggravated murder, aggravated robbery trial of a 20 year old Northend man was nearing completion late Thursday in Common Pleas Court.

James H. Walton, formerly of 1224 Huber Ave., is charged with being the trigger man in the Jan. 9 shooting death of 19 year old Mark Patterson, of 2599 Summit St.

Patterson, according to police, was trying to stop Walton and his 27 year old brother, Charles, from stealing a postage scale from Lift Parts Services, Inc., 1741 Cleveland Ave.

Patterson worked for the firm which is owned by his father, Charles, 41, of 41 E. Lincoln Ave.

In an earlier action, Charles Huber pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter and is awaiting sentencing.

The Supreme Court outlawed school segregation October 29, 1959.

League Of Cities President Notes Positives Of Housing

"People who occupy public housing are humans too. We have much talent and brilliant minds" living in public housing, a capacity crowd was told during the first annual luncheon of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Jessie M. Rattley, president of the National League of Cities and a member of the Newport News, Va., City Council, said the public housing units in Columbus represent ent a positive asset of the community.

She said rather than continue the negative stereotype the general community has of residents who live in public housing, city officials should make an effort to address the importance of housing for all citizens.

"They (residents of public housing) need to be told, 'We're glad you are here and we want to work together for the good of Columbus,'" she said.

Mrs. Rattley went on to say that the future of housing in general is not good because of bad economic times. She said the reduction in housing start-ups that began in the 1970s will continue into the 1980s, which could cause serious problems for residents dependent on government assisted housing.

In another housing matter, meanwhile, the U.S. House of Representatives has passed a bill which gives the Housing and Urban Development Department power to bring suits before administrative law judges appointed by the Justice Department in cases involving housing discrimination. HUD can bring the suits on its own or on behalf of individuals. The bill has been sent to the Senate.

MAYOR TOM MOODY, left, joins Jessie M. Rattley, president of the National League of Cities, following her address before the luncheon of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority. Moody introduced Mrs. Rattley, who is a member of the city council of Newport News, Va.

And the Senate has approved a bill authorizing $46.9 billion for housing and community development projects. It provides for 410,000 housing units to be rehabilitated for rental to the poor. The bill has been sent to the House.

Ms. Rattley said the inflation rate is hurting the chances of a quick housing recovery, and slow action by the federal government to allocate money for housing construction worsens the problem.

"Inflation is such that the units should begin construction immediately." But, she added, it could be 1982 before new public housing units are actually under construction.

And although communities continue to argue against having public housing units built outside the central city, more than one million people now live in public housing units since similar arguments were heard in the 1940s when public housing began, Ms. Rattley said.

"B&H, I like your style!"

BY JOE BLACK

By the Way

Time has a way of sneaking up on us and before we know it, it is D-Day. This time D-Day is the U.S. census count that will take place in 1980.

Somewhere, somehow, Black and other minorities have acquired the notion that we are "beating" the man when we fail to tell the truth when asked how many people reside in our house or apartment. I don't know the reasoning behind this conjecture, but I am going to state some facts and then let you decide who really loses when we cheat the census count.

Fact 1. Population totals are used to determine how many representatives from each state will go to Congress. (I know that we are not satisfied with the results.)

Fact 2. Revenue sharing allocations by the Federal Government are apportioned annually on the basis of the local and state population. (This has a direct bearing on food stamp programs, work incentive programs, CETA, child nutrition act, etc.)

Fact 3. Should you lose your birth certificate and not have a way to document your birth, the age search branch of the U.S. Census Bureau can provide proof from your census record. This document is accepted as a substitute birth certificate by all federal and state agencies.

GOOD MORNING JUDGE

A 20 year old Whitehall woman has gotten herself in a jam with the law that could cost her a bunch of money or a rather stiff term in jail if convicted on all of the crimes she is charged with committing. Karen A. Jones, also known by police as Angela K. Jones, 664 Briarwood Dr., Whitehall, was busted by Whitehall Police on check forgery charge on June 13. She allegedly forged a $346.08 check on June 8 making it payable to Brenda Mann. At the time of the alleged forgery, Ms. Jones "knew the check would be dishonored by the Huntington National Bank," police stated in an affidavit. She was nabbed at a Big Bear Store in Gahanna and was released on a $500 appearance bond. The bond was forfeited when she failed to keep the June 20 hearing date set by the court.

When picked up again, her bond was upped to a $1,000 and her hearing was reset for July 3.

But in the meantime, police slapped another forgery charge against her. This time she was charged with forging an Ohio operator's license. The license was "purported to be genuine when it was actually spurious," police said. She was bound over to the Franklin County grand jury under a $5,000 surety bond. But that isn't all of her misery, for she still must answer charges of another check forgery, two counts of receiving stolen property and one of resisting arrest. Preliminary hearings on the latter charges are scheduled for July 3 in Municipal Court.

In addition to Ms. Jones, a string of other defendants are slated to line up to face an assortment of felony and petty charges. Ronald F. Moody, 22 of Dayton is scheduled for a hearing on an aggravated robbery offense. He was allegedly armed with deadly weapon, a handgun, while committing a theft offense on June 6. A $25,000 surety bond was ordered, pending his 1:30 p.m. preliminary hearing.

Two suspects charged with safecracking, are also docketed for preliminary hearing at 11 a.m. Thursday. Phillip A. Perdue, 25 of 415 S. 17th St., and Johnny Wm. Brown, 23, of 1194 E. Rich St., are charged with attempting to crack the strong box at Food World, 3377 Cleveland Ave. The suspects, police allege, "were tampering with the locked steel box for the purpose of committing a theft offense." They were nabbed by the Clinton Township Police following a spirited chase. A $1,000 surety and a $400 appearance bond was placed against Perdue. Brown's bond was set at $2,000 of the surety classification.

In a separate case, 53 year old Jerome A. Burton, 940 Shoemaker St., is also docketed for a hearing on a safe-cracking job. Reynoldsburg police charged Burton with entering a safe at 6201 E. Livingston Ave. A $2500 surety bond was set by the court. His hearing is also set for 11 a.m. Thursday.

Charles Starrett McCord, 28, of 428 Hamilton Ave., is slated for a hearing on a forgery offense. He is accused of attempting to defraud Lazarus downtown by signing a sales slip without the consent of the rightful owners. McCord, according to the affidavit, made a $233.60 purchase and tried to charge it to the account of Howard and Irene M. Johnson, 482 W. Second Ave. A $5,000 surety bond was ordered by the court.

A 25 year old Dayton man who was nabbed last Thursday when allegedly caught with a concealed weapon on his person, is due to face a charge of carrying a weapon under disability. Anthony Ross, according to police, was arrested on Main St. and Wilson Ave., when caught with a loaded .25 automatic pistol. Because he had been previously convicted on an aggravated robbery charge, he was charged with possessing the "ready-at-hand" weapon under disability. A $10,000 surety bond and a $2500 appearance bond was set by the court.

Linda C. Super, 21, of 1072 E. 12th Ave., has a date with the judge in answer of a bad check charge. Her purpose was to defraud when she issued a $156 check to Lazarus, "knowing it would be dishonored by Bank One." She allegedly issued the check on Feb. 7 and was arrested on a warrant on March 20. She was let go on a $2500 recognizance bond (recog).

Next Thursday will also be due bill date for several defendants lined at earlier trials. Shirley Johnson, 23, of 311 Wrexham Ave. was assessed $50 and costs in the amount of $33 after pleading guilty to petty theft. She was granted until July 3 to settle the account. According to the affidavit, Johnson was busted April 30 for shoplifting $23.47 in children's clothing from Gold Circle Dept. store.

Michael L. Turner, 19, of 2414 Dunkirk Dr., can consider himself lucky after getting a break when he answered a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. After the charge was amended to "improper handling of a firearm in a motor vehicle," he pleaded no contest and was let off with a $50 fine. The fine comes due July 3.

Dexter W. Johnson, 20, 1436 E. 14th Ave., is also due to show out $50 imposed by the court when he was found guilty of a concealed weapon offense. He also pleaded no contest.

Not only did he have a full line of white scheduled to begin a 10-day jail term. She was assessed the fine and sentenced after pleading guilty to an assault charge. Susan Register alleged in an affidavit that Ms. Duff, "recklessly caused serious physical harm to her by striking her with fists and scratching her face" during an altercation at Lazarus, 141 S. High St., on April 3. The court ruled that Ms. Duff may serve the days on consecutive weekends, beginning July 3.

Noah Frank Farmer, 24, of 350 Shell Ct., is also slated to begin a workhouse term Thursday. He was arrested by Whitehall Police and charged with burglarizing the Educational Psychological Developmental Center, 5300 E. Main St. June 20. He pleaded guilty after the charge was reduced to attempting to trespass on the premises of the center. The court sentenced him to 60 days, but knocked off 20 days for time served in jail while awaiting trial. The term is to begin July 3.

George Harris, 27, of 3130 E. Hudson St., and 1947 Dunning Dr., who allegedly went AWOL from the Workhouse while assigned to a work crew at the Morse Rd. Treatment Plant last Sept. 19 after serving only three days of a 36-day term may be on his way back to the Jackson Pike prison. He is docketed to answer a charge Thursday of escaping from detention. He was serving time on a resisting arrest conviction when he went AWOL, police said.

In the meantime, cases of defendants listed in this column last week, received the following action: Elliott M. Hubert, 20, 1410 Shell Ct., Reynoldsburg, waived preliminary hearing on a charge of receiving stolen property and was bound over to the grand jury. Ditto in the grand theft case of Diane Harris, 24, 1088 Franklin Ave. An aggravated assault charge was dismissed against Jeannette Dorsey, 19, 2236 Marcia Dr., at the prosecutor's request. Coffield Brown, 18, 1788 Hemwell Ct., was bound over to the grand jury on a breaking and entering charge. Rochelle Manning, 1495 Bycroft Rd., pleaded not guilty to a charge of soliciting for prostitution and demanded a jury trial.

Hightower, Manning Selected To U.S. Women's Olympic Team

Stephanie Hightower, the track great of Ohio State University and Madeline Manning, formerly of the Capital City Comes, both were named to the U.S. Olympic Women's Track Team following their performances last week at the Olympic Track and Field Trials at Eugene, Ore.

For Manning, 32, it was her fourth time for being named to the team. She ran away with the women's 800-meter final and was timed in one minute, 58.30 seconds, the second-fastest ever by an American. Manning holds the American mark of 1:57.9, set in 1976 at College Park, Md.

The 1980 U.S. Olympic basketball team outlasted the 1976 Olympic 81-77 Sunday. The winners were led by Isiah Thomas of Indiana and Al Wood of North Carolina as each scored 13 points.

Walter Davis scored 14 and Scott May 12 for the 1976 team in their losing effort.

Billy Brooks, wide receiver of the Cincinnati Bengals, reinjured his knee last week playing tennis in the Bahamas. But the club reported that the injury proved not serious following an examination.

Brooks first injured the knee in the fourth game of last year and missed the remainder of the season.

Hightower, meanwhile, won the women's 100 hurdles in the second fastest time ever by an American, 12.90 seconds. She had already won the collegiate and national titles. The third win made her the third triple champion this year.

World-record holder Edwin Moses scored his 46th consecutive victory in the 400-meter intermediate hurdles in 47.90 seconds during the Olympic Track and Field Trials. It was his 38th straight final victory, just two short of the all-time record for intermediate hurdles.

Rensaldo "Skeet" Nehemiah, formerly of the University of Maryland, raced to the fastest time in the world this year in the 110-meter high hurdles at the Olympic Trials. Nehemiah's time was 13.26 seconds.

Sugar Ray Leonard, knocked from his throne as WBC welterweight champion by Roberto Duran, has hinted that he may retire from boxing. Leonard said on a television program that "I feel I've fulfilled what I could do."

Leonard lost a 15-round decision to Duran in Montreal. Reportedly he will receive more than $8 million for the fight.

Rod Carew, the man with the "magic" bat, continues to lead in a category other than collecting hits: the starting lineup for the American League for the All-Star Game to be played Tuesday, July 8, in Los Angeles.

A first baseman for the California Angels, Carew was named to the starting team for the 11th consecutive year. He received 3,674,247 votes. The outfielders receiving the most votes to start for the American League included Reggie Jackson of the New York Yankees.

Viewers To Be Metros' Coach

By WALI BELL

Viewers of Qube cable television, through their two-way interactive system, will soon be able to call the plays and make the decisions that will affect the Columbus Metros football team in their opener against the Racine (Wis.) Gladiators.

The game, to be played July 12 at Franklin County Stadium, will start at 8 p.m. The Metros are a semi-professional team.

Qube will use the system to permit viewers to actually pick the plays that the Metros will execute. Defensive and offensive plays will be called by viewers at home.

Viewers can select from 6 defensive and 21 offensive play is best, viewers can punch a button that transmits the lay they want used.

The plays will be tabulated by Qube's main computer and then the play receiving the most votes will be transmitted to the Metros coach, who will then signal the quarterback on the field.

At the same time, all of the tabulations are shown on the screen. Viewers will have from 30 to 40 seconds between plays to make another decision. The quarterback will have the option to call an audible if he feels it necessary.

"It is an innovative idea and I feel privileged to be part of it," coach Hal Dyer said at a Tuesday press conference to announce details of the format.

Ticket sale proceeds from the game will benefit the Franklin County Area Jaycees' community projects.

Campers at YMCA Camp Wilson can learn about the cultures of several other foreign countries. International counselors from Denmark and Australia will be at the camp through July 3.

A special international day is scheduled for later in the summer to highlight their international backgrounds.

Old Timers Plan Annual Reunion

The Old Timers Athletic Association, continuing a tradition that began seven years ago, will hold its Reunion and Picnic at Maryland Park at Fairfield and Atcheson Sts. on July 20.

As always, the event is free to the public. It begins at 1 p.m. and will include games, food, music and prizes.

"Each year we have picnics to get the people in the community, basically the old timers, to see one another and enjoy friendship. It's an event whereby people can also acquire new friends," said Nate Noble, president of the club. "Last year we had Leonard Napper and his supporters, softball, baseball and sold hotdogs. People mull around and talk and there is something for everyone to do," he said.

Noble said there are about 20 active members in the club and another 200 inactive members. The club formed in 1974 with the purpose of helping the youths in addition to bringing senior citizens together, he added. The youths are recognized for their athletic achievements.

"I think the support is very gratifying from the community. Sometimes we go to all games in Cleveland and the baseball games in Cincinnati. We're going to Pittsburgh in August and in October we are supposed to be in Cleveland for another football game.

Officers beside Noble are James Willis, Walter Pryor, Herman Reeves, Roy Morgan, Bob Kelley, and Sherman Boone. Members include Eddie Saunders, Harvey Alston, Alex Bondurant, Walter Dunn, John Brodus, John Smart, James Loughridge and Bill Durr.

For further information on the reunion, contact Noble at 258-2958, or Morgan, 294-3881.
